PRACTICAL DETAILS

The course is free of charge in the sense that the teaching and study material will be provided by the project.

Due to the structure of the course, in which training practices move together with theoretical knowledge, it is necessary to attende the complete course in order to grasp the content of the training. Unfortunately, we only have a minimum number of places available for the course, so it is important for us to safeguard that people participating in the course take an active part in it. We thank you for your understanding.

The online course will be hosted by the Municipality of Ravenna who is the first municipality in Italy to be EMAS Certified. The Municipality of Ravenna is further one out of seven partner organisations in the Synergy Audit project of which you can read more here, from the project leading organisation One Planet.
